Expand Your Impact with Our Holistic Approach

The spaces, food quality, and engagement programs you provide students and staff influence their safety, health, and well-being both in and out of school. This makes every aspect of your day-to-day operations critically important. That's why we take a unique, holistic approach that brings together the management of buildings and grounds, environmental services, social and emotional health programs, and food safety in ways that help you make the most impact, more efficiently.

Financial Stewardship

Our experience, expertise, and extensive resources can make it easier for you to be an effective steward of taxpayer money while improving your facilities, operational efficiency, and student experiences.

Sodexo partnerships ensure every one of your facilities looks great and that they are clean, safe, and operating as they should. Your learning community always feels welcome and proud. With experts in the field of operations maintenance, we cover your day-to-day needs such as carpentry, repairs, waste management, pest control, and more, providing both peace of mind and peak efficiency.

Nutrition with a Side of Friendship

With multiple access points in our foodservice lines, students get through the line faster. And, even more importantly, they get more opportunities for social interactions that create personal connections and foster socio-emotional wellness.

Cultivate

A Thriving Learning Community

A thriving learning community starts with the places your students call home. It's protected by the environmental wellness programs you dutifully pursue each day, and nourished by the high-quality foods your students, staff, and visitors enjoy under your care. And it all comes together with social and emotional health initiatives that prioritize the well-being of the people you serve. We're here to help you make it happen.
